

WILSON TO TAKE RAILROAD QUESTION BEFORE CONGRESS

WILL RECOMMEND LEGISLATION AIMED TO AVERT THREATENED STRIKE

Executive Reaches Decision After Conferences With Railroad and Brotherhood Heads—Rail Presidents Submit New Proposal for Settlement—Wilson Urges Withdrawal of Tentative Strike Order.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson tonight definitely decided to go before congress in person tomorrow or Wednesday, to recommend legislation aimed to avert the threatened nationwide railroad strike, or stop it if it comes before congress can act. He worked until late tonight on his message in which he will tell members of the senate and house the negotiations to date and lay before them a definite legislative program.

The president reached this decision after conferences at the white house with the committee of eight railroad presidents and the four brotherhood heads, on a new proposal for settlement of differences, suggested by the executives and after a prolonged discussion of the situation at the capital with the members of the Democratic steering committee of the senate.

Expect Unfavorable Reply

The proposition of the railroad executives was that an investigation of all issues be conducted by a commission to be named by the president, the investigation to last for a period of three or four months, no action to be taken by either side in the meantime, and at the conclusion of the inquiry the situation to be what it now is, the employees having the choice of either arbitrating or striking. The brotherhood heads promised a reply tomorrow morning and there was every indication it would be unfavorable.

When the railroad brotherhood heads went to the white house tonight the president not only laid before them the plan of the executives, but strongly urged the withdrawal of a tentative strike order sent out yesterday subject to release calling for a walkout of the 400,000 brotherhood members at seven A. M., Labor Day, Sept. 4th. This request was flatly refused, the leaders saying only the committee of 649, which left Washington yesterday had the power to recall the order.

Copies of the strike order were brought to the president's attention after they had gotten into the possession of the railroad executives.

It had been known that the members of the committee of 649 carried home with them a tentative order but no one outside the brotherhood councils had suspected that a date had been set and the president is said to have been greatly perturbed by the information. After the refusal to withdraw the order, he communicated with the railroad presidents who held a meeting that lasted until late in the night.

President Still Hopeful

In spite of the apparent final failure of his efforts to bring the two sides together, the president was represented tonight as being still hopeful of averting a strike.

The legislative program prepared for congress includes the following measures:

An eight hour day law for railroad employees so framed as to give the railroads time to prepare for it; and,

A law patterned after the Canadian industrial disputes act, providing for investigation of industrial disputes on railroads by a commission and prohibiting strikes or lockouts pending the outcome of the investigation.

In addition to these measures there are under consideration a resolution to increase the revenues of the railroads in case the expenses are increased and a law creating authority for the operation of the railroads under the federal government in event of a strike. The plan tonight was to have the first two measures introduced as amendments to the bill which has already passed the house, increasing the interstate commerce commission from seven to nine members.

Determined to Prevent Strike

Altho on the surface a nationwide railroad strike was nearer tonight than it had ever been confidence was expressed in official quarters that steps under contemplation would have the effect of preventing the walkout. The president, realizing the disaster which would come to the country if the railroads are tied up was said to be determined to prevent a strike at any cost. In his conferences with the executives he strongly urged that they change their hitherto unyielding attitude, and when he saw the employees he declared that all suggestions from the executives should be given most careful consideration.

Final arrangements for the appearance of the president before congress were not completed tonight, but he discussed the question fully with the Democratic steering committee of the senate and they agree with him that he should address a joint session.

The time of his appearance depends largely upon further conferences tomorrow with the executives and the employees.

At today's conference the railroad presidents did not formally present the statement agreed on by them last Friday night, which amounted to a flat refusal of his plan of settlement. This statement has been signed by all the executives, but its presentation was withheld in the interest of peace.

President Wilson was informed verbally of its terms however.

Thruout the day there appeared to be some possibility that an agreement might be reached on a plan which would include concession of the eight hour day but postponement of its effectiveness until the railroads had had an opportunity to prepare for it. Hope of persuading the railroad managers to agree to such a plan had not been given up tonight. After their conferences with Mr. Wilson the executives gave out a statement in which they said they had laid before the president a suggestion in the nature of a proposition for progress toward a solution of the questions at issue.

Believe Laws Can Be Passed

Altho it seems certain that there will be opposition from Republicans in congress to the legislative suggestions of the president, administration leaders think it will be possible to get the laws thru within a reasonable time.

The visit of the brotherhood heads to the White House came within half an hour after the president had left the capitol. They hurried from their hotel on foot to the executive mansion. Their conference with the president was brief. He handed one copy of the railroads' counter proposal to A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the employees, and he said that he would not discuss it in any way. It is known, however, that the brotherhood men gathered that he did not strongly approve of it. Every effort was made to keep the call at the White House secret. The union heads returned to their hotel singly and by separate routes. They will meet the committee of twenty-four tomorrow morning.

News that copies of the strike order sent out yesterday was in the hands of the railway presidents occasioned no surprise among the brotherhoods.

More than five thousand copies of the order, it was learned today, were mailed out of Washington last night, and each of the committee of 649 also received a copy.

"There was one traitor among the twelve disciples," one of the brotherhood heads said, "and our average appears to be higher than that."

Agree Upon Labor Day

Labor Day was agreed upon as the time for the tentative strike order to become operative, it developed today after careful consideration of several dates. It finally was chosen because of the belief that a demonstration by the 2,000,000 or more union men who will march in Labor Day parades in behalf of the brotherhoods would have the effect of winning much public support for the strikers. By Labor Day, also, the strike order will have been scattered to all points on all divisions of the country. Altho the strike order is for seven o'clock next Monday morning, all lines affected probably would not be tied up before some time that night if the order were released.

Every member of the brotherhood, whether an employee on a passenger, freight or mail train is subject to the strike order. Brotherhood heads intimated last week that

ORDER 12,000 NATIONAL GUARDSMEN TO BORDER

REVOKE SUSPENSION OF ORDER FOR MOVEMENT ISSUED TWO WEEKS AGO

Ohio, Vermont and Kentucky Militia Will Go Forward to Join Funston's Command as Rapidly as Transportation Can Be Supplied.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Some 12,000 men of Ohio, Vermont and Kentucky National Guard regiments still held in state mobilization camps were directed by the war department today to proceed to the Mexican border. The department revoked suspension of an order for their movement issued two weeks ago. All the regiments will go forward to join General Funston's command as rapidly as transportation can be supplied. Some units were on the move tonight.

There remain apparently 13,000 guardsmen, scattered thru many states who are not affected by today's order. They also were under orders for the border two weeks ago, but the suspension so far has not been revoked for them.

The original order sending southward all troops called into the federal service was issued by the war department in order that the divisional units along the international line might be filled up and also that those regiments who were not ready to go in the first rush might share in the training as soon as they could be fully equipped. When the railway strike situation became threatening General Funston recommended that the whole movement be held up as the supply difficulty, in case of a rail tieup, would be complicated by the addition of 25,000 men to his command.

ATTENDED BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reeve returned Monday from Chicago where they went to attend the banquet given in honor of John J. Brown, supreme grand chancellor of the world Knights of Pythias. More than 650 attended the banquet, which was given at the Auditorium hotel. The toastmaster was A. J. O'Donnell, a Chicago attorney, who is the grand order guard of the grand lodge of Illinois. Among the speakers were A. A. Partlow, of Danville, grand chancellor; John J. Reeve, vice grand chancellor; W. C. Edens, secretary Central Trust company, and Former Senator W. E. Mason.

GEORGE DETERING OF CONCORD BUYS THE 6TH BUICK

This time it is George Detering of Concord who is the fortunate man in buying of Howard Zahn a fine Buick car, number six on the new year beginning August 1st.

supply trains running to the Mexican border, some passenger trains and possibly some milk trains would be exempted. Tonight they declared that all trains would be tied up.

"We hope to tie up all freight and passenger trains," one of the leaders said.

The strike order is brief. It is addressed to all members of the four brotherhoods, is signed by the various general chairmen and reads as follows:

"Sirs and Brothers: This is to advise that the vote of the employees in train and engine service on the eight hour day and time and one-half overtime proposition was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

"Notwithstanding this, your representatives have been unable to effect a satisfactory settlement and a strike under the laws of the respective organizations becomes effective on Sept. 4th, 1916, at 7 a. m.

"Impart this information to those interested will understand that they are to promptly obey."

On a separate sheet the duties of members and officers in the conduct of a strike are set forth. Particular emphasis is placed on conducting the proposed strike as peacefully as possible. Among the duties of members set forth are these:

"No man in road service involved in the strike will perform any service after the hour set to strike, unless he has already begun a trip and has actually left the terminal. If a train has left the terminal he will complete the trip and deliver the engine and train at the end of the run, or tie up point if tied up under the law after which he will perform no further service until the close of the strike. Men in other than road service will leave the service at the appointed time.

"So far as your legal right to strike is concerned, there is no difference between a mail train and a freight train. You have identically the same right to refuse to perform service on a mail train as you have to refuse to perform service on a freight train.

"All men on strike will keep away from the company's property except such men as are designated certain duties to be performed by the authority of the organizations.

"Every man should understand that the laws of the land must be obeyed. Acts of violence of any nature will not be tolerated by the organizations."

L. F. O'DONNELL RETURNS FROM VISIT TO DETROIT

Attended Convention Arranged by Anderson Electric Co.—Big Increase in Business.

L. F. O'Donnell is back from Detroit, where he went to attend a convention of branch managers, dealers and salesmen of the Anderson Electric Company, manufacturers of the Detroit Electric car. The Detroit Electric has long been recognized as the leader in its class of cars and the reports presented at the convention made it very clear that there is a country wide increase in demand for electric cars. There were two sessions, each of the three days in addition to a dinner and various social events.

Among those who made addresses were A. C. Downing, assistant sales manager of the company; F. C. Read, sales manager of the Detroit Sales & Service company; P. H. Price vice president and advertising manager; E. E. Whipple, central district manager; E. P. Chofant, manager of the company's eastern division; Carl E. Kirsten of the parts order department; William Critzer, auditor, and George I. Bixby, head of the research department. A report presented showed that the business of the company for the year ending August 1st had increased 141 per cent over that of the past year. The 1,800 cars made and delivered represented one-third of the entire country's output of electric cars.

Reports from a number of rural districts gave proof that the electric has its country users and can no longer be properly termed a city car. The 1917 model was shown at the convention and it was announced that prices for 1917 would range from $1775 to $2375. Three thousand and cars will be manufactured in 1917.

White Hall Visitors

Among Winchester visitors who went to White Hall Sunday to attend the chautauque were the Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Prewitt and Miss Nylene Prewitt, Miss Mildred Funk, Thomas Bean and family, E. L. Balsley and family, Olive and Mae Wells, Charles Doyle and daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Demmereth and Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and daughter.

Miss Ella Boylan returned Monday to her home in Jacksonville. She was accompanied by Guy Paul and Leo Boylan in the car of the latter.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Gibson of Irving, and their son, the Rev. E. L. Gibson of Alton, have completed a visit at the home of Earl Nelson and gone to East St. Louis for a short stay before returning to their homes.

VACUUM CLEANING TRIED ON ST. LOUIS STREETS

St. Louis has recently completed a sixty days' trial of an electric vacuum cleaner for the city streets and Mr. Talbert, the director of streets and sewers, has recommended that such machines be used as a substitute for flushing wagons. A vacuum street cleaning machine in the downtown section of St. Louis would save between $6,000 and $7,000 in street sprinkling, $1,500 for water and $400 for cleaning sewers, according to an estimate by Mr. Talbert.

OTHERS WILL COME TO TALK ABOUT FACTORY

Several Buildings in View For Use of Proposed Factory

Edwin Bersche, who has been in the city for a number of days discussing tentative plans with the chamber of commerce for the establishment of a piano-organ factory here, said last night that E. G. Schwarz, the inventor and Leto Lieu, of Highland, Ill., will be in the city tomorrow to discuss the plans further. A number of buildings have been inspected and Mr. Bersche believes there will be no trouble about completing the final arrangements.

The instrument it is proposed to build here is an electric pneumatic piano-organ. The instrument can be used in six ways: as an organ independent from piano manually; as an organ independent from the piano mechanically; as a piano independent from the organ manually; as a piano and organ combined manually and as a piano and organ combined mechanically. Any player piano roll can be used for this organ and all stops can be adjusted at the piano keyboard. The pedal board is coupled to the manual so that only the lowest notes played will take effect regardless of any number of notes played at once. Various other details of the proposed plant will be discussed when Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Lieu arrive.

E. J. HOWELLS WILL GO TO KANKAKEE POST

Is Appointed Manager in Company's Largest Illinois District—Promotion Result of Good Work Here

The announcement will come as a surprise that E. J. Howells, district manager for the Central Union Telephone company, has been appointed to a like position at Kankakee. Mr. Howells will be succeeded here by A. L. Taylor, present plant chief, and the change will become effective Sept. 1. Mr. Howells is going to the largest district the company has in Illinois and the change, therefore, means a notable advancement for him. Several times during the seven years that he has been in Jacksonville Mr. Howells has been offered positions elsewhere with larger salary but he has preferred to remain in Jacksonville. However the offer to go to Kankakee, the largest district in the state, was not one he felt like turning down, and the final arrangements were completed yesterday, when C. H. Rotger, general manager for the company in Illinois, was in Jacksonville.

Mr. Howells came to the city seven years ago from Springfield. He began his telephone work sixteen years ago under Mr. Rotger and the two have been close friends during the intervening years. When Mr. Howells took the Jacksonville exchange it was in a somewhat disorganized condition. It was not long until the effect of his work was apparent and the exchange service was raised to a high state of efficiency and a large increase in business resulted. Subsequently he was made manager for this district, which includes Greene, Brown, Calhoun, and a part of Scott county. In the Kankakee district are the exchanges at Dwight, Pontiac, Momence and in all ten, in addition to those where joint exchanges are maintained with other companies.

Mr. Taylor, who will succeed Mr. Howells, has been in Jacksonville since June, having come here from Quincy. He has given proof of his thorough understanding of the business and his work here has been of such high order that he was naturally in line for appointment as Mr. Howells' successor. As stated before, Mr. Howells is to leave September 1st, but it is uncertain just when the members of his family will go to their new home and there is a possibility that they may remain in Jacksonville for the winter. While the many friends Mr. Howells has made during his residence in Jacksonville will regret that he is to leave, they will nevertheless find pleasure in his advancement.

ROUMANIANS AND AUSTRIANS CLASH

Vienna Describes Roumanian Attacks Treacherous—Take Prisoners

SEEK ENTRY TO PLAINS

Ferdinand's Troops Attempt to Press Northward Toward Bukowina and Galician Border

WILL PUT MILLION IN FIELD

VIENNA, Aug. 28.—via London.—The first clashes between troops of Roumania and the central powers occurred last night in southeastern and eastern frontier mountain passes of Hungary says an official statement given out here today. The Roumanian attacks are described as "treacherous."

Roumanian prisoners were taken.

Germany Wars On Roumania.

Roumania has thrown in her lot with the entente allies by declaring war on Austria-Hungary and almost simultaneously Germany has announced that she is at war with Roumania. Already the troops of King Ferdinand are seeking entry into the plains of Transylvania thru the eastern Carpathians toward Kronstadt, the chief city in Transylvania and in the direction of Hermannstadt, evidently in an endeavor to press northward thru Transylvania toward the Bukowina and Galician borders and to take in the rear the Austro-Germans trying to hold back the Russians from entering the plains of Hungary.

Nothing has come thru to indicate what preparations has been made by the Bulgarians to offset a probable attack by the Roumanians along the Danube front or a possible attempt by the Russians at invasion by means of the Danube and thru Dobruja or by the Black Sea. It is estimated that Roumania will be able to throw nearly a million men into the field.

Except in the Macedonian sector, little important fighting is reported from the fronts. Along the line where the Teutonic allies are in contact with the Serbians, British and French, Berlin and Paris report additional gains for their respective forces. Berlin records the capture of heights south of Sebrosko by the Bulgarians and the repulse of Serbian counter-attacks on Mount Saganjanska, while Paris says the Serbs have made considerable progress near Vetrovika and have repulsed with heavy losses Bulgarian attacks on the roads from Banica to Ostrovo. Paris admits, however, Bulgarian occupation of positions abandoned by Greeks west of Kavala, on the Aegean.

Artillery engagements and mine operations again have characterized fighting in France and Belgium. The French report further progress east of Deville Wood and near the Moquet farm in the Somme region, while London reports the shelling of British positions especially between Pozieres and the Thiepval wood and reciprocal bombardments at other points. The German attack near Fleury failed.

From the Riga region to the Carpathian passes there have been isolated engagements at various points between the Russians and the Austro-Germans but no notable successes. Hard fighting is in progress between the Russians and the Turks in the Lake Van region and north of Bitlis.

In the latter region the Turks have been driven back by a Russian counter-attack losing men and guns. Aside from bombardment by the Austrians, along the Isonzo the fighting situation in the Austria-Italian front is unchanged.

Paris admits, however, Bulgarian occupation of positions abandoned by Greeks west of Kavala, on the Aegean.

Artillery engagements and mine operations again have characterized fighting in France and Belgium. The French report further progress east of Deville Wood and near the Moquet farm in the Somme region, while London reports the shelling of British positions especially between Pozieres and the Thiepval wood and reciprocal bombardments at other points. The German attack near Fleury failed.

From the Riga region to the Carpathian passes there have been isolated engagements at various points between the Russians and the Austro-Germans but no notable successes. Hard fighting is in progress between the Russians and the Turks in the Lake Van region and north of Bitlis.

In the latter region the Turks have been driven back by a Russian counter-attack losing men and guns. Aside from bombardment by the Austrians, along the Isonzo the fighting situation in the Austria-Italian front is unchanged.

Men in a nearby city have a new excuse for not attending Sunday church services. Two of their fellow citizens had automobiles stolen while at church. Now the danger from theft can be added to rain, hot weather, bad ventilation and countless other excuses.

More Preparedness.

A speaker in an audience on preparedness said:

"Before the looming danger of invasion the pacifist and the preparedness chaps are respectively like Willie and Johnny.

"Willie and Johnny had been very naughty and were sent to bed by their mother. As they lay side by side footsteps were heard—it was now evening—and the two culprits realized that their father was mounting the stairs. They turned pale.

"I'm going to fold my hands as if I'd been prayin', said Pacifist Willie, and then I'll pretend to be asleep when he comes in."

"But Preparedness Johnny was already bustling swiftly about the room.

"I'm going to put on my pants," he said, and line 'em with a newspaper."—Chicago Daily Journal.

A Trainload of Catalogs.

Somewhat startling evidence of the vast business done by mail order houses has just been seen in Springfield, where postal authorities state that twenty-one car loads of catalogs were received. They came by freight and were re-distributed from the state capital. Notwithstanding the attacks made on the mail order houses their business seems to grow, or at any rate keeps pace with the increase in population. A vast amount of business comes from the rural districts, the farmers believing that they are able to buy at much less prices than from the retailers. It very often happens that retailers are willing to take the mail order catalogs and duplicate the goods at the same price, but this offer does not carry the weight with it that attaches to a 500 page catalog backed by a million dollar concern.

Then we might just as well face the condition that all the business the mail order concerns get is not from the country, for there are a lot of city folk—some of them in business dependent for support upon the people of the community in which they live—who are not free from the charge of mail order buying.

Motorcycle In New Use.

As the gasoline engine and the tractor are being developed for farm uses there are indications that the motorcycle is to fill a new place in industry. In Los Angeles a motorcycle sweeper has been introduced into the street cleaning service and the report is that the innovation will increase the efficiency and cut the cost very materially. A brush sixty inches wide is attached in front of the wheels and behind is a dirt wagon into which the refuse is automatically swept. A two cylinder motor furnishes the additional power necessary.

This invention may not appeal to the public at large as being a distinct advance but will make its appeal to the street departments of cities.

SOMETHING NEW

The man who writes, the long year thru, hears readers say, "Write something new! The thoughts you spring, from day to day, are bearded things, all worn and gray." But there is nothing new on earth; there is no thought of modern birth; there is no plot or song or tale that Noah didn't say was stale. I've read James Boswell's book again; in it Sam Johnson, best of men, expressed his views on every theme of which the mortal mind may dream. And like an oracle he spoke, and I delight to watch his smoke, but never did he make remark that wasn't known in Noah's ark. But his remarks, tho' sore and gray, were spoken in the Johnson way, and tho' he's been a long time dead, we cherish still the things he said. Since every thought on earth is old, and baggy-kneed and blue with mold, it profits not for me and you to strain at saying something new. We'll take old thoughts we find astray, and doll them up as best we may.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

August 28, 1788—Congress authorized the sale of an extensive tract of land in Illinois to Colonel George Moran, of New Jersey.

where the constant need is felt for improvement. It is in the adapting of the inventions already made to new uses that the greatest development in industry is likely to come in the next few years. Mr. Rennick in his address at the chautauqua Sunday afternoon pointed out in picturesque language some of the remarkable advances made in the last decade and suggested some that might be expected. There is nothing sensational about the motorcycle sweeper but its coming is significant as it points the way to other improvements.

Advertising Growth.

The bulletin of the census dealing with the printing and publishing industry in the years 1909 and 1914 has just been issued. One of the most important points disclosed is the increase in newspaper advertising during that period. The figures show an increase of 23.9 per cent in the five years. The volume of business in 1914 was $184,047,106. Along with the growth of advertising was the increase in circulation, the combined circulation in 1914 being 283,588,966 as compared with 232,993,094 in 1909.

The figures both as to advertising and circulation attest the power of the newspapers. Advertising is a business proposition and that increase in advertising would not have been possible had not it been demonstrated over and over again that advertising pays. A man can be extravagant and careless about advertising just as with anything else, and can throw away his money without getting returns. But the man who advertises intelligently and consistently is certain of his financial reward.

Farms Instead of Jails.

As a result of an extensive study of crime and criminals in Pennsylvania the plan is being advocated of abolishing all county jails for other than temporary confinement. The commission which has investigated the whole subject recommends to take the place of jails six state industrial farms where those who are to serve sentences for a few weeks or months will be sent.

The farms will furnish employment in addition to the regular farm work, so that no matter what the season of the year offenders against the law can be sentenced and given work with favorable surroundings. Various investigations have shown that jails are in reality great breeding places of crime, for often first offenders are placed there and from the associates and general atmosphere instead of being improved or benefited by the confinement, come out of jail much worse than when their punishment began. The purpose of punishment is to prevent crime and the Pennsylvania commission has experience and sound argument in suggesting this new plan to do away with the jails.

H. M. BULAND SECURES FINE POSITION

Friends here have received word from H. M. Buland stating that he has arrived with his wife and baby in Parkersburg West Virginia, where he will have charge of athletics in the high school in that city.

Parkersburg recently erected a $200,000 high school building. Mr. Buland says there is a gymnasium 95 by 50 feet in the clear. The gymnasium is equipped with a cork running track and a gallery above which seats 1,299 people. The school also has a $50,000 athletic field.

Parkersburg has the largest enrollment of any high school in the state and the finest equipment in that part of the country. Mr. Buland had signed a contract to coach football at a southern college but the school authorities made him such a good offer that he signed a contract with them. The people of Parkersburg want athletic teams commensurate with the equipment of the school and Mr. Buland was able almost to name his own terms. His many friends here will be glad to learn of his success and will wish him luck and all championship teams.

GENERAL CLEAN-UP FOR CITY IS THE COUNCIL PLAN

Informal Discussion About Garbage Disposal—Funds Will Soon Be Available To Pay For Systematic Work.

The session of the city council Monday morning was almost a record breaker for brevity. There were no reports from departments other than from Mr. Vascone, who stated that men were busy replacing electric wiring as fast as other work would permit. He also reported that on the basis of a test made as between raw pea coal and washed screenings that it had been determined to use washed screenings in the municipal light plant. The test made showed that washed coal at $2.10 and pea coal at $2.19, the cost per kilowatt was one mill more using pea coal. As the average daily production is 18,000 kilowatts, the use of washed coal is more economical by $4.80 a day.

Mr. Pyatt brought up the North Diamond street sidewalk ordinance for a second reading but action was deferred until the description of some of the property mentioned has been verified. The council then adjourned.

Later Mayor Rodgers stated that a meeting of the board of local improvement would be held Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for the paving of North Sandy street, West Court street to West street and West street from Court to West State street with creosote blocks.

General Clean-up Will Come

There was an informal discussion following the council meeting of garbage disposal. When the appropriation ordinance was passed this year a two mill tax for garbage disposal was passed in accordance with the authority of the state law on this subject. This tax which is available will at a comparatively early date bring in between $8,000 and $10,000. From this fund the city council hopes to adopt the most feasible plan for garbage disposal for a general clean up of the city can be made. The two usual methods of disposal are by burying the garbage or burning it with an incinerating plant. Such a plant has been in operation in Decatur for several years and Springfield is planning one. It is probable that some of the city officials will inspect one of these plants.

In Jacksonville it may prove a better plan to bury the garbage as is usually done in European countries. By this plan all rubbish, and refuse matter would be placed in deep trenches four to six feet wide and then covered over with earth. When one trench has been filled another would be dug adjoining it. By this method it would be practicable to use the greater part of a dumping ground for some other purpose and if the rubbish was thoroughly covered, there would be no offensive odors or damage to surrounding property. Experience has shown that when this plan is followed that in a very few years' time even the tin cans and bones which may be buried are entirely disintegrated and it is possible to use a dumping ground over and over again if all material is deposited in trenches.

By Products From Garbage

In a lot of a few acres the refuse matter from a city of this size could be easily handled in an inoffensive and sanitary way. In a number of cities the local government takes care not only of tin cans and rubbish of that kind but also the ordinary garbage or slop, and the city wagons have certain times for making their rounds and leave cans in place of the ones that are carted away. While no figures are available for cities of this size, in some larger cities the garbage disposal as handled by the municipal government more than pays for itself even if an incinerating plant be used. There are various by-products from such a plant and all of them are valuable as fertilizers. Just what method will be followed here has not yet been determined but the money raised for this work will be expended in putting and keeping the city in just as sanitary a condition as possible.

"The New Governor"

adapted from Edward Sheldon's play, "THE NIGGER," in eight wonderful reels. The only difference between this subject and "Birth of a Nation" is four reels. Stupendous—Most Perfect Production ever produced.

In this play Edward Sheldon, America's most significant young dramatist handles unflinchingly and with unerring power, a modern problem that must be faced fairly and squarely by the people of the United States.

The topic which forms the motif of this striking drama is one which legislators and serious thinkers have grappled with unsuccessfully since the days of slavery. Mr. Sheldon is the first playwright however who has had the courage to tackle the subject dramatically.

In the William Fox production, William Farnum, America's most popular young actor gives a sublime performance of the self sacrificing hero, Philip Morrow. Under the masterful directorship of Edgar Lewis, the enthralling drama works out to the proportions of a mighty epic of modern American life dealing as it does with the gravest social, moral and political conditions.

Mrs. Elizabeth Russell and daughters Flora and Gertrude have returned to their home in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, after a visit with J. R. ("Jack") Robinson and family south east of the city. Mrs. Robinson is an aunt of Mr. Robinson and very near to him. Mrs. Russell lost her husband some years ago and when the family came to this country landed in Jacksonville and Mr. Robinson gave them much assistance in getting started. They remained in this region a number of years and then went to Canada where they made good. Mrs. Russell has two sons who have each 160 acres of land but one of them is in the trenches and the other has enlisted ready to go if called on. Her daughters have good positions and are doing well.

OBITUARY

Miss Julia DeSilva was born Dec. 25, 1877, in New York City.
After the death of her father in 1865 her mother moved to Jacksonville with her three daughters, Isabella, Julia and Emma. Isabella passed away in 1870.

She was reared in a christian home altho she was 16 years old when she united with the Second Presbyterian church. She had always been a faithful member of the Sunday school and when just a child sang in the church choir and was also organist. She was one of the ladies who joined the first missionary society and has since been a member. She was treasurer for a number of years and even after being an invalid always took an active part in the work. She was also a member of the North Side Circle. She was an active member of the church. She was always cheerful even to the end and never happier than when doing something to lighten the burdens of those she met. She loved little children dearly and was always happy to have them around about her.

Her going means the loss of a good christian woman, one who was ever ready to help the father, give a word of encouragement and point the way to the home on high. She lived not for the things of this world but lived in this world preparing herself for her home where sorrow, pain and trouble are not known. She was ready to go home

BURLINGTON WAY OFFICERS

HOLD BUSINESS SESSION

Plans for Development Work Considered—Booster Meeting at Murrayville.

The Burlington Way executive committee met Monday afternoon with all members present, with the exception of Mr. Young of Rock Island. Several matters of importance were discussed, and the committee proved that they were as live as live wires could be. Enthusiasm has not died with any of the members, and they are showing themselves hard workers and faithful to the cause.

The first matter of importance discussed was the Burlington Way cigar. Mr. Collins, a former Jacksonville cigar manufacturer, but now of White Hall, has been given the contract for using the Burlington Way label and selling it in towns along the train from St. Louis to Greenfield, from there to Astoria, Greenfield to Springfield, and from Springfield thru Bloomington to Chicago. Also on the Springfield and Peoria division. The balance of the trail and the parts to be organized will be handled by The Ferd Haak Co., of Davenport, Ia. The Burlington Way association will receive a royalty of one dollar on every thousand sold. It is expected that fully 500,000 Burlington Way cigars will be smoked in one year.

The matter of changing the parent trail was brought up, and secretary Nissen and Mr. Wilhite will go to Carthage today to consider the matter of rerouting the trail. However, the present towns along the trail were given a fifteen day probation to prove that they still want the trail to remain.

To Meet At Pontiac.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee at Pontiac on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting will be for the purpose of organizing the Springfield-Chicago division. The trail as proposed now will include the following cities: Bloomington, Pontiac, Dwight, and Morris. From Morris to Chicago there is hard road, and it is probable that from Dwight to Joliet the trail will follow the Chicago and Alton railway.

Bobbie Burns was in the city yesterday and arrangements were made with him to leave Carthage and walk the Burlington Way to Fort Madison and from there to Cresco, Ia. He will then go to Iowa City, thru Cedar Rapids to St. Paul. He will then have completed the Burlington Way from St. Paul to St. Louis and vice versa, along the two routes.

Sign Board System.

Another commendable project has been started by Secretary Nissen. This is the sign board system at the edge of every county. This board will be made of steel and will be 12x25 feet. On the top will be the name of the county the tourist is entering. Immediately beneath this will be a board two feet wide and twenty-five feet long with the distance to the next town and valuable other information. In the center in a space 5x10 feet will be the Burlington Way emblem. There will be in this space the distance to the next point, the division of the trail that section of the trail is in, and the terminal point of that trail.

Craig Is Inspection Officer.

The matter of inspection officers came up and LeRoy W. Craig of this city was appointed inspector of the trail on the St. Louis and Beards-town division.

The association will be incorporated as soon as possible. A feature of the meeting yesterday was the decision to establish a monthly magazine by the Burlington Way Good Roads association. This is to be published in Jacksonville, and every member of the association will receive one each month. The publishers of this magazine will be J. W. Priest, A. E. Nissen and Carl Weber.

Go To Murrayville.

Complaints have been received by the officials in regard to the small stretch of road between Murrayville and Manchester. This stretch starts about one-fourth mile east of the Lemon Crossing. This tourists have stated is the worst road on the trail between Jacksonville and St. Louis. While this does not lie directly in the Murrayville territory, it was decided to interview the Murrayville citizens about making the road better now. A delegation from this city went there last night. In the party were, Carl H. Weber, W. J. Brady, T. M. Tomlinson, J. W. Priest, Secretary Nissen, Mr. Wilhite, Bobbie Burns and Mr. Englemach. It was an enthusiastic group of Murrayville boosters who had gathered in the Town Hall and they were more enthusiastic after they had heard Mr. Nissen and Mr. Wilhite talk. Pres. Nissen ended the meeting and asked for opinions of the Murrayville citizens in regard to the road. Several stated that in the condition the road was at the present time the road could not be dragged. The only thing that could be done was to grade the road and put it in condition. On a call from Mr. Nissen several volunteered to be ready any time to go to Manchester and see the road commissioner of that district and demand that the road be put in passable condition. As this is the only practicable road into Manchester the idea of changing the trail was abandoned.

President Weber then introduced Mr. Wilhite who is the father of the Burlington Way. He made a splendid informal talk, Secretary Nissen was then introduced and he as usual gave an address filled with the enthusiasm he feels in talking on his favorite subject.

At the conclusion of Mr. Nissen's address plans were formulated for organizing a Murrayville Community Burlington Way Good Roads association. When fifty members have been received the organization will be perfected. J. E. Osborne was elected temporary president with C. W. Wright as secretary. They named R. D. Lawson, J. K. Cunningham, J. L. Wyatt, W. B. Wright and B. J. Cade to secure the fifty names necessary to perfect the organization. Nearly all present at the meeting signed and by this evening some of the members expressed a belief that the fifty names could be secured.

Interesting talks were given by T. M. Tomlinson, W. J. Brady, J. W. Priest and Mr. Englemach, of Greenfield.

WILL LAY CORNER STONE FOR HEBRON CHURCH

CEREMONY IS TO TAKE PLACE
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Society Founded Way Back in 1839—Church Site Chosen Where Historic Camp Meetings Had Been Held
 —Some Names Famous in Metho-distism.

As has already been mentioned in the Journal, the members of Hebron church at Sinclair decided some time since to erect a new church building to replace the one which had well served its purposes but was too much out of date and in many ways unsuitable for the purposes intended. Accordingly steps were taken to that end for with these people to decide was to act and act they have and the work is well under way.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, at 2:30
 p. m., the corner stone of the new structure is to be laid and in anticipation of that event a brief history of the society, gathered from the records, is offered.

It was in the latter part of 1839
 that a devout company of christians
 in the northern part of the county met for the purpose of organizing a Methodist Episcopal church. The location was already somewhat historic for it was the site of a noted camp ground where many good people had been accustomed to gather from year to year and hear the gospel from the lips of heroes such as Peter Cartwright, Peter Akers, W. D. R. Trotter, and many others. No record has been kept of the names of those who attended but a committee consisting of Watson Sinclair, Samuel W. Smith and Edward March was appointed to draw up a constitution which they did. Some other names were Mrs.
 Eleanor Craven, Mrs. Samuel Sinclair, and John Sinclair.

William Hodgson, A. G. Phillips,
 Watson Sinclair, Samuel Smith and Edward March were the first board of trustees, and Rev. E. Corrington was president of the meeting. Evidently Mr. Carrington had been chosen pastor as the minutes say that the preacher presiding at the meeting
 be asked to nominate the trustees.
 The society was at first named Bethel but later it was discovered that there was in the county another church of that name so it was changed to Hebron. At a meeting of the trustees held April 23, 1840, Wm.
 Hodgson was elected president of the board, A. G. Phillips secretary and Watson Sinclair treasurer.

A Log Structure
 The only place of meeting was a log structure but the hymns and petitions that went up from that lowly place reached the great white throne with far greater acceptance than many of the utterances in palatial structures.

Progress was the order of the day and soon it was decided to add to the accommodations and at the same time to serve the cause of education
 so it was decided to erect a frame addition and the whole might be used for both school and church purposes.
 Watson Sinclair was appointed a committee of one to secure a deed to the camp ground from J. J. Robinson and the trustees were appointed a committee for the purpose of securing funds for the proposed structure. July 8th there was appointed a building committee consisting of William Hodgson, Edward March and A. G. Phillips.

 The work went ahead and the 5th

 William Day for furnishing materials and plastering the new building. Nov. 14th Jonathan Swan presented a bill for $355.98 for work done and both bills were paid.

Some Early Troubles
 It seems strange that at so early a date Satan was able to get in his work so well but so it was. The man who put up the new building was not at all in sympathy with believers in Christianity and a report in the records say they had considerable trouble with the man. Aquilla Mc-Elfresh seems to have been the first teacher and toward the close of his term a movement was made to secure the services of J. P. Moore for what was probably a subscription school. One condition was that he open and close with prayer. Then appeared on the scene one Wm. H.
 Stapleton backed by J. J. Robertson, Wm. Hodgson and others, trying to get names for a day and a night school. The records say that Stapleton was an unbeliever and that his patrons were principally of the same sort. Then Stapleton's supporters circulated all sorts of talk and threats; called the conduct of the trustees "religious bigotry,"
 "aristocracy," "religious monopoly"
 and the like. By the use of duplicate keys they gained access to the school room and proceeded to start their school. The morning Mr. Moore's school was to begin Stapleton and his forces were in possession but the trustees had the law on their side and went accompanied by the sheriff and a warrant for the intruders who were compelled to give bond of $800 to keep the peace. Then the malcontents erected a small building not far from the school and started their school but it didn't amount to much.

The Trustees Report
 In their report to the quarterly conference the trustees say they didn't believe that any other church had so much trouble as they. The total cost of the improvements was $699.81 and the subscriptions
 $648.56, leaving a deficit of $51.25.
 Wm. Hodgson was absent from a good many meetings after the trouble referred to but he came back and his name appears on the records
 as president at a March meeting, 1844 when steps were taken to change the name of the church to Hebron.

There is nothing more on the records until June 17th, 1850 when the church met to elect a new board of trustees as some of the former board had moved away and the new board chosen consisted of Watson Sinclair, James L. Martin, Richard Dods-
 word, Stephen Dodsword, Jonas Fox, Thomas Maddox, William Good-
 hall, Thomas Swain and John Swain,
 the last named the father of the four brothers and two sisters who have been and are so prominent in the work of the church and Sunday school. Watson Sinclair was chosen chairman and John Swain secretary and a committee consisting of Watson Sinclair, James Martin and Richard Dodsword was appointed to solicit funds and repair the church.
 Later Messrs. Martin, Fox and Dods-
 word were made a committee to superintend the placing of a brick foundation under the church. March 29, 1852 David Hart was chosen secretary for a year. April 4, 1853 it was decided to whitewash the church and employ George Sinclair and David Boyce sextons at $33.00 a year,
 the church to erect a woodshed.

Church Contracted in 1867.
 April 27, 1867, the record of the contract for a new church building is found. The structure was to be 36 by 50 feet and the contract for the building was awarded to Benjamin A. Lillie for $2,485, and on the book is his receipt for the sum and that was the church which served the purposes of the congregation till recently when it was torn down to make room for the proposed new edifice. It was rather more preten-sions than the one which cost $699.81 and for the time was a fine
 and satisfactory structure.

The contributors to this fund were Joseph Greene, John Swain, James
 Ward, Richard Dodsword, Thomas
 Swain, Watson Sinclair, Ann Sinclair, James Wood, Vickerman Breckon, John Leek, Thomas Mad-
 dock, Matthew Hart, Henry Swain, Adelaide Swain, Mathew Hodgson,
 Samuel Sinclair, James L. Martin,
 George Harris, J. D. C. Smith, John Breckon, Rebecca Hodgson, Samuel
 Mulligan, S. R. Williams, Frank
 Murphy, Catherine Breckon, Oliver
 George Sinclair, Joseph Trotter,
 George Brown, Thomas Fox, John W.
 Murphy, William Clamit, Logan
 Brown, Elsie Fox, James Slotten,
 John Craven, George Murphy, George Carver, Christopher Hodgson, Orpha Fox, Sarah Gains, Hannah Dods-word, Adeline Eldred, George Adams, William Goodall, Thomas Eads, William Orrax, Robert Johnson,
 James R. Maddox and Samuel Black.
 January 27, 1860, when D. R.
 Trotter was presiding elder an election for trustees was held as there were several vacancies on the board,
 and Thomas Eads, Matthew Hart, Vickerman Breckon and Robert Sinclair, the old trustees Thomas Maddock, Stephen Dodsword and John Swain, seven in all, make up the full board.

Cemetery Platted.
 March 4, 1861, the historic old camp ground was abandoned and the place that had witnessed so many outpourings of the Holy Spirit was destined to bear them no more except in the church, and a cemetery was platted and the minutes note
 the following giving note for burial
 spots: Elsie Fox, Vickerman Breckon, Samuel Sinclair, Christopher Hodgson, William Craven, Noah Boyce, James Wood, Ezekiah Craig,
 George W. Adams, William Goodall,
 Samuel Mulligan, Thomas Fox, Thomas Eads, John Swain, John Wilson, Watson Sinclair, Thomas Swain,

 Francis Hunter, Thomas W. Maddox,
 Stephen Dodsword, Matthew Hart
 and Alice Mahon, Jesse Brown,
 he minutes of March 16, 1862,
 note that Brother Maddox sold the cotton of the preachers tent for $4 and Sexton Polser received $3 of one sum and Brother Maddox retained $1 that was due him. Later on Brother John Swain reported he had seen a majority of the trustees and had bought the brick in one of the wells at the camp ground at $5 a thousand and had paid for them.

Sept. 2, 1869, Ross & Hodge acknowledged the receipt from John Swain, clerk of the church, $120.50 for plastering the church. The minutes say nothing about the death of John Swain but his son, George R., was made secretary in 1875, and has held the office ever since, 41 years.

Early Contributors
 March 17, 1866, Rev. Hardin Wallace pastor, a Centenary society was formed with William Waters president, Thomas H. Maddox, vice-president, Vickerman Breckon treasurer, and John Swain, treasurer. Sisters
 Eleanor Craven, Jane Hunter, Ann
 Hart, Margaret A. Piersal and Lizzie Fox were appointed a committee on collections. The following persons are noted as contributors: John Swain Samuel Jumper, Christopher
 Hodgson, George Robinson, William Goodall, Samuel Mulligan, William
 Waters, Hannah Wood, Rebecca
 Hodgson, Jane A. Sinclair, Henry F.
 Poisal, A. Walker, George Hubbard, ams, Fannie Fox, Della Eads, and cash.

 John Stimpson, Elizabeth Boyce,
 John W. Breckon, Ellis Sappen,

 na Hopper, Philip Hopper, Robert
 V. Read.

A paragraph says C. G. Bradshaw received of Vickerman Breckon a collection of $7.50 to go to the Female college.

June 24 Vickerman Breckon received of John Swain $96 in cash and subscriptions.
 At the quarterly meeting held at Shiloh July 10, 1875, the following trustees were elected: T. H. Maddox, president, Vickerman Breckon treasurer, John Swain, Matthew Hart, Matthew Hodgson, George W. Adams, and George Swain, clerk.

In 1880 Rev. J. P. Dimmitt was the pastor and there was a trustee
 meeting with the following present:
 Thomas Maddox, Vickerman Breckon
 George Hopper, Robert Hunter, Horace Spaulding, and George R.
 Swain. Painting and repairs of the church at a cost of $130.99 were reported. Horace Spaulding offered a resolution that the temperance union be permitted to hold meetings in the church once in two weeks provided the meetings were properly and religiously conducted and that they be required to protect the church from being marred or injured by marking,
 cutting, or using tobacco in the church.

The Horace Spaulding mentioned was the veteran school teacher so greatly beloved and respected in early days.
 The foregoing paragraphs are culled from the secretary's record book kindly loaned by George R.
 Swain. Much more might have been written but the article is long enough. The Sunday school has ever been a force for good, the missionary society and other organizations.
 It would be pleasant to give the names of the charter members in full, names of the pastors and the Sunday school superintendents but there are no records showing them.
 The church has a grand history
 and its work is by no means done.
 In the upper and better land are many of its earlier pastors and members and the portals will swing open sooner or later to many more.

HITLESS BASEBALL.

Remarkable Record That Was Made
 by Cy Young in 1904.

The proud record for pitching consecutive innings of hitless baseball is held by no less a personage than the Hon. Denton Tecumseh Young of blessed baseball memory. Mr. Young, better known as "Cy," is the holder of several records in unusual feats in the pitching line.

It was back in April, 1904, that Young proceeded to shatter all figures in this line, and before he got through
 he had created a new record in hurling hitless ball and one which stands today clean cut and without a spot or blemish and without a doubt the greatest piece of pitching the game ever witnessed.

On April 30 against the Washington team Young took Winter's place in the third inning, no one out, and pitched out the game, retiring the next twenty-one batsmen in order. Young's next game took place May 5 against the Athletics. Cy pitched the best game of his long and honorable career that day and retired twenty-seven of those famous swatsmen of Connie Mack in a row. In a game against Detroit on May 11 Denton T. pitched his famous fifteen inning 1 to 0 game against the Tigers, and in the first seven innings
 Young set them down without a base hit.

This would give Cy twenty-three innings of hitless ball, or, in other words, as far as the records show, sixty-eight batsmen stepped to the plate and were retired in succession. In that same period the big Ohioan pitched forty-eight consecutive innings wherein his opponents failed to get a run across the plate. After his great no hit-no run game against the Athletics
 he pitched fifteen innings of runless ball, as mentioned, against the Tigers with Ed Killian opposing him. It was a battle royal, and the clever Killian met defeat by a score of 1 to 0.—New York Sun.

CHARTING THE GREAT LAKES.

Uncle Sam Has a Steady Job in These Perilous Waters.

Summer after summer the fleet of the lake survey sails the broad expansion of the five lakes and the score of bays and inlets searching for danger spots that may claim their heavy toll of human life and vessel tonnage.

Since 1841 the United States government has been silently carrying on this work, a herculean fight against the jagged reef and the unseen shoal that menace navigation. Sounding lines have been plunged into black depths of 95,000 square miles of water, and still today there are areas that have not been charted in which passing barks may founder.
 Probably no frequented waterways
 in the world are so hazardous as the great lakes. At no time is a steamer on them more than a comparatively few hours from shore and periodically fierce storms arise, fully as violent as those experienced on the ocean, which play with the steel ships, battering them helplessly about, threatening to engulf or sweep them ashore.

 Over $5,000,000 has been spent by the government since 1841 for the prosecution of the work of charting
 the lakes. Locked in heavy timbered boxes, protected from fire in immense vaults in the old postoffice building, Detroit, are over 1,300 field charts, dating back to 1818, when a survey of Lake Erie was made by officers of the British navy. With few exceptions the maps are the result of the scientific researches of United States officers and surveyors.—New York Sun.

UMPIRE FORFEITS GAME TO CLINTON AFTER RIOT ON FIELD

CLINTON, Iowa, Aug. 28.—Monday's game with Waterloo was forfeited to Clinton by Umpire Asher after a riot on the field during the first inning.

Manager Brennan of Waterloo on the bench in street costume, was ordered out by the umpire and responded by kicking Asher in the shins.
Asher swung his mask, hitting Brennan under the eye, cutting his face badly. Waterloo players swarmed upon the field, several attacking the umpire, who defended himself with a bat. Police, fans and local players hurried to the scene and the disturbance was quelled.

After the game was forfeited, Waterloo and Clinton played an exhibi-

to 6.

THE BATTLING BRAVES.

Right now the Braves look to be the best bet among National league outfits capable of giving the Robins
a real run for pennant honors.

Boston joined the National Association of Professional Baseball Players, which later became the National league, in 1871. The first year Boston finished in second place
and the next year the team romped home with the pennant. Thereafter for a number of years pennant winning seemed a habit with the Beauteaters. They capped the bunting for four successive years, 1872-75,
and repeated in 1877, '73, '83, '91,
'93, '97, '98, and 1914.

In 1906, thirty-five years after breaking into professional baseball,
a Boston outfit took the count for the first time and finished last. All told the Beanees have won first in the cellar five times, in 1906, 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912.

After twelve years of second-division pastime, from 1902 to 1914,
the Braves created a baseball sensation in 1914 by climbing from last position to the National league and world's championship.

The Boston team was christened
the Braves in 1913 when James Gar-fney of New York bought the club.
Mr. Garfney is a well known Tammany Hall leader, so the nickname of "Braves" was tagged to his team
as a natural sequence.

Manager George Stallings, who is now rounding out his twentieth year in professional baseball, took charge of the Braves in the Spring of 1915.

Of the veteran pastimers on the Boston team, Evers has seen thirteen years of service in the big show.
Magee 12 years, Reulbach, 11 years,
Ketchey nine years, and Snodgrass eight years.

"Rabbit" Maranville, one of the tallest sportsmen the game has ever produced, joined the Braves in 1912
after a year's experience in minor league company.

Tim Hughes, who is battling for the lead among National league pitchers, had two trials in the big yard before landing with the Braves.
Under Stallings' guidance Tom has developed into a top liner.

In point of continuous service with the Braves, Pitcher George Tyler is the veteran of the team. George joined the Braves, now the Braves, in 1911.

None of the Braves have been performing more brilliantly this season
than has Third Baseman "Red" Smith. A slant at "Red's" work makes the hot corner appear a soft occupation.

While not performing out on the lot with the Braves, Coach Fred Mitchell must be handed a share of credit for the team's showing. Mitchell, besides being Stallings' right-hand man, is baseball coach at Harvard and knows the national pastime
from turnstile to scoreboard and back again.

Evidently the Braves do not need 300 stickers in order to keep up in the race. Not a member of the outfit is within hailing distance of the select circle of batsmen.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Women have broken at last into the sacred field of diplomatic service, and Great Britain is the pioneer which has made the innovation, as a tribute, it is said, to the work of British women in the war. Two women have been given diplomatic appointments since the beginning of the war: Miss Pressley Smith, a prominent suffragist, as assistant secretary in the British legation at Christiania, Norway, and Miss Violet Ewskine, a daughter of the British consul-general at New Orleans, who has become a member of the staff of Sir Richard Crawford, British Commercial Adviser and Minister Plenipotentiary to Washington. When we speak of woman "breaking into the diplomatic service," however, we should remember that though this is a "breaking-in" in a business sense, the social influence of diplomats' wives and the paramount role they have often played in embassies has been of immense importance. In the choice of many an ambassador from one European court to another, the beauty, tact, wealth and fascination of the ambassador's wife has been a determining factor, as things calculated to make friends for the country represented.

Miss Elsa Ueland of Minneapolis has been chosen as the head of Carson College, the unique institution for girl orphans endowed with a five-million-dollar bequest by the late traction magnate of that name, and which is to open in September, in Philadelphia. Miss Ueland was secretary to William Wirtz superintendent of the famous Gary schools of Indiana, when she was offered the post, which will pay her $4,000 a year. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and also holds the master of arts degree from Columbia. Carson College will be unique among "orphanages," the girls to be given extraordinary advantages including a college course and it gifted training in music and art. The institution will be operated on the cottage plan, and Miss Ueland's work for the present will be to superintend the building of the seven or eight constructions which will be erected on one of the most beautiful sites in the suburbs of the Quaker city.

Miss Florence Whittaker of Chicago, a former chorus girl who is now a social missionary in that city, has made it her ambition to establish homes for chorus girls in every large city where musical comedy shows have much of a run. Such homes, calculated to keep the girls contented with innocent social pleasures and opportunities, would do much in breaking the late supper habit which is the fast and easy guide on the downward path, and whose chief cause, Miss Whittaker says, is nothing but the frightful loneliness most of the girls have to endure without home or friends. She is now hopefully working on the project in Chicago itself. Miss Whittaker, who is a frail little woman of 25, left the stage three years ago, after having already had success as a dancer and singer. She has since worked indefatigably as a missionary in Chicago, chiefly among stage people, and twice a week preaches at a social settlement chapel called the Little Night Church, where she leads in prayer a motley congregation that drifts in from the streets.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, the daring birth control advocate, has announced her intention of opening this week in Brooklyn a birth control clinic, where the poor women of the metropolis will be instructed in birth control just as they are now instructed in infant breeding. In the clinic nurses will be on hand to supply information to mothers, just as nurses at milk stations now tell parents how to feed their children. The Brooklyn clinic will be the first of a series of such institutions, according to Mrs. Sanger's present plans, and clinics will next be established in Cleveland and St. Paul, as well as in other locations where there is no law against this propaganda. The laws of New York state are against such a propaganda, but Mrs. Sanger declares that she wants to test the constitutionality of those laws by the opening of her clinic.

The Clear Infinity.

That which we foolishly call vastness is, rightly considered, not more wonderful, not more impressive, than that which we insolently call little-ness, and the infinity of God is not mysterious, it is only unfathomable; not concealed, but incomprehensible; it is a clear infinity, the darkness of the pure, unsearchable sea—Ruskin's "Modern Painters."

THE GREAT WHITE PLAGUE.

Women Teachers Have Good Reason For Dreading Tuberculosis.

That teachers are especially prone to tuberculosis is the statement made by the bureau of educational hygiene of the city of New York. This department says that this disease is 20 per cent more prevalent among teachers than among others of corresponding sex and age and that about half of all deaths among women teachers is caused by tuberculosis, and this in spite of the fact that teachers belong to a better hygienic grade than the general average.

Strenuous, nerve taxing work that causes physical exhaustion and nerve breakdown is given as the main cause. Terman states that "four hours of actual teaching represent about eight hours of ordinary office work." What is probably the second cause is lack of sufficient rest and regular exercise in the open air.

Speaking along this line, the state board of health says: "The worn, tired look that usually marks the teacher, especially about the close of school, is too often a condition of serious consequence. It may be just a 'tired, run-down condition' or a case of 'worn-out nerves' or both, but these are predisposing causes of tuberculosis as much or more than others."

"Unless the teacher is wise," says the board, "and as quickly as possible overcomes this tired feeling and regains her usual state of health and vigor she subjects herself to an open risk against tuberculosis as well as to other diseases."

"What the wise teacher will do is to avoid overwork and a nervous strain and see that she gets sufficient rest daily as well as daily exercise in the open air. This worn-out condition that is too often the beginning of a long, sad story is easy to prevent. To prevent it should be the teacher's first duty."

MADE A POOR GUESS.

The Chinese General Knew More Than Did the Tibetan Buddha.

At the entrance of the lamaseri at Kumbum are eight large monuments, which contain the ashes of eight Buddhas. Long years ago, at the beginning of the Ming dynasty, after hard fighting the Tibetans were driven back from Chinese territory, which they had overrun for hundreds of miles. When the victorious Chinese general reached Kumbum he sent for these eight Buddhas and said to them: "You can read the future. Can you tell me when you are going to die?" One of them, shrewd enough to understand the general's mind, said, "Tomorrow." "No," said the general; "it will be today." And it was.

Quite a number of temples and buildings make up the lamaseri. The chief temple, which is dedicated to Tsong Kaba, the great reformer of Tibetan Buddhism, has a roof of gold, variously conjectured as being from one-eighth of an inch to half an inch thick. Inside is a large image of Tsong Kaba, said by some to be of gold, but it is probably overlaid with gold. The temple threshold is covered with planks, and we saw many poor deluded people prostrating themselves in worship there. Around the main building are many large prayer wheels, which are kept well on the turn by the devotees to obtain merit.—Christian Herald.

Miseries of the Red Sea.

In the waters of the Red sea the cessation of the engines on a steamer for an hour means extreme physical suffering for passengers; for a day it would involve absolute torture. The wind which prevails every day is a hot, asphyxiating blast, and its continuous directions are from north and south toward the center. As a result every passing vessel is subjected to two days of almost intolerable heat, followed by two days of comparative comfort, but instances have been known of crowded liners being compelled when traveling with the wind to turn round and steam back for an hour or so in order to give the passengers even a brief respite from the sufferings induced by the dull, dead, unbearable atmosphere.

UNIQUE CEREMONY

The Japanese Rite For the Battle Slain of the World.

IT EMBRACED ALL NATIONS.

On a Floating Temple In Sumida River a Priest of Tokyo, With His Flock, Offered Prayers For the Souls of Soldiers Dead Because of Wars.

Unusual preparations were made one morning in Shussanji, or the Goning Out of the Mountain temple, a quaint little place of worship hidden away in a labyrinth of crooked streets in a poor quarter of Tokyo—preparations for a celebration on the Sumida river to pray for the repose of the souls of all those slain in battle regardless of nationality and to scatter scraps of paper bearing the image of Jizo Sama over the waves, one for each departed spirit.

The chief priest, an aged man, with his assistant and the supporters of the temple, had been busy for days in advance, and all was ready. The red and gold altar of Shussanji was heaped up with offerings of rice and fruit, and a plain wooden tablet had been placed there bearing the words:

"To console all those souls who have passed into the beyond because of war."

The old priest, his bald head shining, clad in his coarse cotton robe of gray, officiated before the altar, and when the last prayers were uttered the people formed a procession to the Sumida river, a short distance away.

Near a bridge an unusual craft was waiting, a deep cargo junk roofed over with canvas bearing bold black Buddhist symbols, and at the bow fluttered a white cotton banner on which was written in large black characters:

"A service to console the spirits of the whole world's departed ones."

Quickly the parishioners embarked and squatted down upon the cushions spread over the bottom of the boat, and the priest, the central figure in the religious ceremony, as gray and faded as the robes he wore, took up his position in front of the altar. A piece of soiled embroidery did duty for an altar cloth, and there was set up a tarnished statue of Jizo Sama. Just below were three wooden tablets. The central one read:

"Pray for the whole world's departed ones' souls." The others had inscriptions asking for prayers for the Japanese army and for prayers for the allies of Japan.

The priest placed some sweet scented squares of incense upon the coals in a small brass brazier, and as the clouds rose into the air the boatman with his bamboo pole pushed off from the shore and the holy man's voice was heard chanting—all the worshippers, old women and young, men and children, murmuring in an undertone, "Name Amida Butsu!"

Out upon the Sumida river the ceremony of scattering the papers was begun. Old and young with their hands full leaned over the sides of the junk, throwing away the sacred papers with the effigy of Jizo Sama stamped thereon, each meant for the repose of the soul of some soldier slain in battle.

Those who have mourned dear ones slain in war would have been touched to the quick by this simple service of humble Japanese people given for all that great host of unknown who have laid down their lives for their countries.

And, while the priest intoned, the incense rose into the air, the metal and the wooden drums were beaten, the worshippers chanted unceasingly, and the squares of paper fluttered out of the boat on all sides and were carried away by the wind over the water to make a long wake behind the vessel.

For three hours the temple junk floated down the river, the papers falling noiselessly over the waves as the banks of the Sumida were passed.

A halt was made at noon, when thin white wooden boxes filled with rice and vegetables were brought out, while an old woman brewed the tea over a little charcoal fire.

The spot at which the stop had been made was a sacred one, for in that exact place a Jizo Sama stone had been buried under the water. Here after the simple meal a special service was held before the boat returned upstream, and a long, narrow piece of wood was driven into the sandy bottom of the bay. The inscription upon it read literally as follows:

"Herewith the service is held for the whole world its departed soldiers to console."—London Times.

"Don't tell me you can't find work," said the hard faced housekeeper.
"Well, mum," replied the tramp at the door, "it's true a man offered me a job only las' week, but I couldn't take it."

"And why not?"
"I wuz paralyzed."
"You seem all right now."
"Yessum, Yer see, I wuz paralyzed wid fright."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Both Departed.

"You don't often see an old fashioned whittler nowadays."

LITERBERRY

S. C. Ennis, of Cedar Cottage, Peoria boulevard, celebrated his 81st birthday last Wednesday. This was a kinfolks affair, but none the less entertaining on that account. A sumptuous dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was spent in reminiscences. Mr. Ennis is hale and hearty, always in a good humor, looking at the bright side of life, and expecting a better life than this one, after a while. His many friends wish him many more happy birthday gatherings. Those from a distance who partook of this affair, were, Mr. and Mrs. Mat Hinds, Mrs. Ora Pierce and J. W. Wilbourne, all of Ashland; Mr. Lee Ennis, of Luitner, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ennis and Miss Dorothy Derby of Greenview; Mr. and Mrs. George Ennis and daughter Boulah and son Byron, of Petersburg; Mrs. Bradley of Belle Plaines, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olroyd of Little Indian, and Mrs. John Butcher of Virginia.

Mrs. C. A. Beavers and James Robert returned to The Zephyrs Monday morning from a week's visit at Barry.

We were honored last week by a two days' visit from a newly married couple from Waverly, George W. Taylor (Cap) and wife, nee Miss Minnie E. Scott, who were married at Waverly on the evening of the 16th. They came over to the Bend, where Cap Taylor was born and raised and everyone is his friend, even the dogs wag their tails and smile to see Cap Taylor go through the Bend. Mr. Taylor has traveled some, hunted jack rabbits in Kansas, hooked red snappers in Tennessee, and seeded all the roads in the Bend with kind sweet clover. See? With his kind disposition, his wisdom and experience, he might have wedded the kings daughter, but he was looking for some one better, and found her at Waverly. Mrs. Taylor is a lady highly respected, of fine appearance and a good talker, a musician of no small caliber, a good singer, and above all, an earnest Christian girl, being of the Methodist denomination from her childhood. They will reside on the Scott farm near Waverly. Many kind wishes go with them from this part of the county.

Miss Mary McFarland is on the sick list.

Mrs. George Jackson of Missouri is visiting at the homes of Walter Long and John Hunter, east of town.

Professor A. J. Rochester and wife have moved into the Mrs. Ratcliff cottage, on Peoria Boulevard, and will reside there, while Mr. Rochester presides at the Literberry college on East Capitol street. We wish him success and a pleasant term of school.

NEW LUBRICANT RESISTS HEAT

PREVENTS RAPID SEDIMENTATION

Ordinary oil breaks down under the terrific heat of an automobile engine. Within a few hours, black sediment is formed which partially clogs-out the remaining liquid from the friction points where lubrication is most vital. Such under-supply of oil causes friction between the metal surfaces, intense heat, loss of power and expensive repairs.

The new lubricant that resists heat prevents rapid sedimentation, insures generous lubrication, and, except where mechanical faults exist, prevents carbon.

Relative Oil Destruction
The contents of the bottles shown, illustrate the relative durability of ordinary oil and of Vedol the new lubricant that resists heat. Vedol deposits only a small fraction as much sediment as ordinary oils.

There is a fundamental difference between ordinary oils and Vedol. Ordinary oils are unstable and therefore unserviceable because of non-heat-resisting chemical structure. Special processes of manufacture developed by this company and the use of Pennsylvania paraffine-base crude oil give Vedol the new lubricant, its unusual chemical structure, and its remarkable heat-resisting ability.

Make this test

Clean out the crank case. Fill with kerosene. Run the motor about thirty seconds under its own power; then draw out all kerosene and refill with Vedol. Now make a test run over a familiar road—up steep hills and along straight, level stretches. Keep a record of oil and gasoline mileage.

You will find that your motor has altogether new pickup and hill climbing ability. Vedol enables you to get the maximum mechanical efficiency from your car and to reduce your expenses.

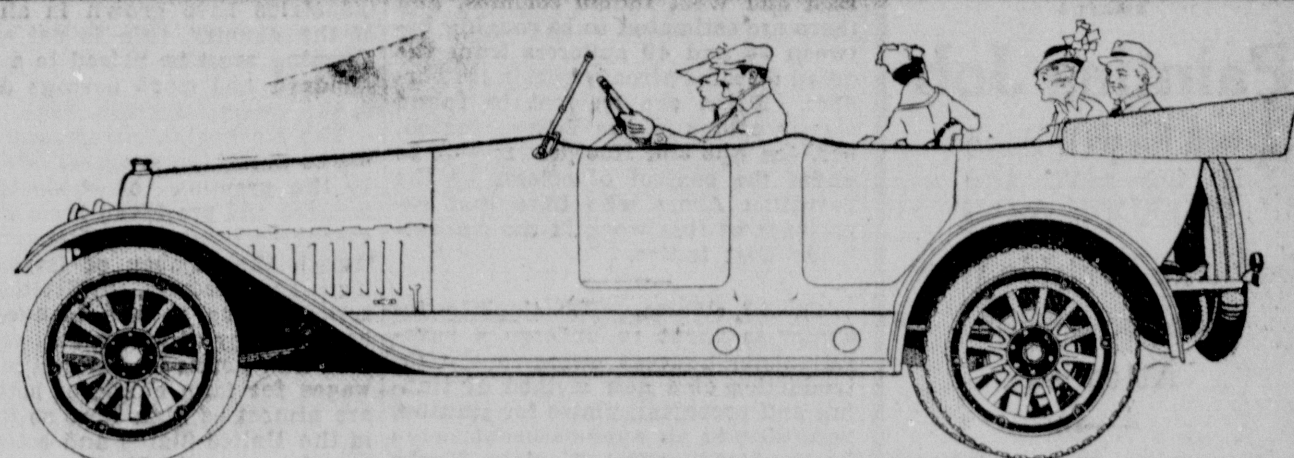

Get a five-gallon can of Vedol, and make this convincing road test.

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Peking, July.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Tuan Chi-wei's new cabinet represents practically all political parties in China, as well as geographical divisions. But it does not seem to appeal very strongly to any of the political parties, and predictions are general that the new cabinet will not last for many months.

Tang Shoa-yi, the new minister of foreign affairs, and several of the other members of the cabinet will not be able to come to Peking for some time. Political conditions here are still very much unsettled, and probably will be for many months. It is not anticipated that the reconvening on August 1 of the parliament which Yuan Shi-kai disbanded, will immediately bring about a solution of the political difficulties.

Representatives of the various prominent political leaders of the south who dare not come to Peking at this time have gathered in the capital, and others are coming daily. Scores of members of the old parliament are already in Peking engaging in political controversy. About two hundred other members of the old parliament are gathered at Shanghai, where they are meeting informally and keeping in touch with the situation at the capital.

Hsu Shih-ying, the new minister of the interior, was a judge under the T'ing dynasty, and rose to the rank of minister of justice in the early days of the republic. He was forced to resign this position, and later became governor of Fukien province, a position he held until the outbreak of hostilities in the present revolution.

Chang Kuo-kan, the new minister of commerce and agriculture, was a member of the state council under Yuan Shi-kai, and was intimately connected with the monarchical government.

Sung Hung-yi, the new minister of education, has been a prominent politician most of his life. He took strong position in opposition to Yuan Shi-kai's monarchical movement, and did able work for the republican cause at Shanghai.

Chang Yao-tseng, who becomes minister of justice in the new cabinet, is a graduate of a Japanese university and a member of the parliament which Yuan Shi-kai disbanded. He formerly taught in the government university at Peking. When the monarchical movement was started last year, he left the capital and joined the revolutionists in Yunnan province.

Admiral Chen Pih-kuan, who becomes minister of the navy, was educated in a British naval school, and has served in the Chinese navy most of his life. He was a captain commanding the cruiser Hanchi when the revolution broke out in 1911. For some time he served as naval adviser to the late President Yuan Shi-kai.

Amstardam, Aug.—Holland is to have a leper colony. The country is exposed to leprosy danger owing to the considerable traffic with its East and West Indian colonies, and there are estimated to be roughly between 30 and 40 sufferers from the dread disease already within its borders. Plans are on foot to found such a colony in the Veluwe region, between Epe and Heerde. It will be under the control of officers of the Salvation Army who have had experience of this work in the Netherlands East Indies.

Cardiff, Wales.—The tinplate industry is about to undergo a revolutionizing process owing to the introduction of a new method of tinning, and preparing plates for tinning, according to an announcement made by the Mellinger Griffith Tinplate Works.

in South Wales. The process now said to be in successful operation dispenses with the necessity of white pickling, and the white annealed plates, after being separated, are, without handling, taken up by machinery and cleaned and piled. It is asserted that the new method increases the production of tinplates in the proportion of more than two to one as compared with the ordinary process.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug.—Americans who arrived in Scandinavia recently on the steamer Bergensfjord told of a decidedly unique celebration of the Fourth of July on board that vessel. On the third of July, the Bergensfjord, a Norwegian ship, was "captured" by a British cruiser and escorted into Kirkwall for the customary examination of cargo and passengers. Despite the fact that they were to be "captives" over the Fourth in a British harbor the passengers decided to hold a fitting celebration and to read anew the Declaration of Independence. All the neutrals on board decided to join the Americans and Captain Irgens, of the Bergensfjord appointed a committee to arrange everything.

The hour set for the ceremonies was 11 o'clock the morning of the Fourth. It was found at that time, however, that the British authorities required the presence of all first class passengers and the reading of the Declaration was postponed until 2 o'clock. At this hour the ceremonies were begun anew. "America" was sung, a short prayer was offered and then Captain Irgens arose.

"I regret it very much," he announced, "but the Declaration of Independence must again be postponed as the British authorities require the presence of the second class passengers in their dining room."

At 3 o'clock the ship's company assembled again to hear proclaimed the principles of a free and independent people. But again Captain Irgens arose.

"I regret again to have to announce a further postponement of the Declaration of Independence, but the British authorities, who do not recognize the Fourth of July as a holiday, say they must have the third class passengers in their dining saloon at once."

Forty-five minutes later the British authorities concluded their examination of the neutrals and this time the Declaration was read amid great enthusiasm.

The Bergensfjord, however, and the Americans aboard her, remained in "captivity" until the afternoon of the fifth.

Christiania, Norway, Aug.—A "Home to Norway" movement is sweeping over Norway at the present moment. The great emigration of Norwegians to the United States which during the past fifty years has drained the country of young laborers and girls from the farms has never made itself felt so much as in the last two years while Norway has been endeavoring to become more and more self-supporting, and more independent of foreign imports. Although since the outbreak of the war industries have grown in all parts of the country, this is not enough. Farming must be raised to a higher standard and more acreage devoted to the raising of grain crops.

The Norwegian government is trying to assist the progress of farming by the granting of cheap loans to farmers and providing them with inexpensive lands for cultivation. Although the number of farmers has increased recently, difficulties have arisen owing to the lack of farm hands, many of whom still prefer to seek new homes in America although wages for farm hands of both sexes are almost as high here as they are in the United States and better than anywhere else in Europe.

The press all over the country is devoting much attention to this subject and strong efforts are being made to change the current of migration and bring back from America to Norway at least some of the farm laborers and women engaged in agricultural pursuits who have in recent times left this country.

The idea of beginning a campaign in America with the object of making young Norwegians there acquainted with the promising prospects in their own country is rapidly spreading. One society with the title of New Land has been in existence some time with this purpose in view and also for providing land to be farmed by peasant youths desiring to start for themselves. Another scheme has been started by a big industrial man who needs thousands of men for his water-power enterprises with the view of inducing the various industries to appoint agents in America to hire Norwegians there for employment in Norway and to assist them to return to their native land.

The most recent government census shows that of the population of 2,500,000 some 20,000 are returned Norwegian-Americans, 1,700 of whom were born in the United States. The majority of these people have taken up farming on their own account, using as their capital money they had saved while working for others in America.

A new emigration law is under consideration which will provide for closer control of emigration agents and steamship lines and making it easier for emigrants to return to Norway by giving them dispensation from military service if they have been away from Norway for a certain number of years and at the same time facilitating the restoration of their Norwegian citizenship.

Two English scientists ascribe the practice of kissing the inferiority of the sense of smell in man as compared with animals.

RELEASED THE LADY.

But the Ungallant Judge Did It In His Own Peculiar Way.

There are many interesting references to Lord Chief Justice Campbell scattered about in the memoirs and biographies of his contemporaries. He was a man who inspired strong likes and dislikes. The famous Dr. Keenly had him. He declared that Campbell found luxury in the infliction of torture and had a rattlesnake, cruel look on his face, which settled immovably as the judge got older. The following reminiscence of Dr. Keenly is remarkable:

"I remember an incident which shows, although only in a slight degree, his natural lack of courtesy and consideration. A number of ladies crowded into one of the passages of Westminster hall for the purpose of getting a glimpse of the lord chief justice, who was then a celebrity of some note. As he passed his button caught in a beautiful lace bertha worn by one of his fair admirers. After a vain struggle to disengage himself Campbell deliberately took out his penknife—everybody thought for the purpose of cutting off his button and releasing the lady. Not at all. He coolly cut a hole in her handsome lace and passed on with his sweetest smile."—Law Magazine and Review.

A KANGAROO AT BAY.

Its Cunning Defense When Pursued Into the Water by Dogs.

In the kangaroo hunts of Australia capture is sufficiently easy, but sometimes the kangaroo makes an original defense.

If possible the kangaroo directs his flight toward a river. If he reaches it he enters, and, thanks to his great height, he is able to go on foot to a depth where the dogs are obliged to swim.

There he plants himself on his two hind legs and his tail and, up to his shoulders in the water, awaits the arrival of the pack. With his forepaws he seizes by the head the first dog that approaches, and as he is more solidly balanced than his assailant he holds the dog's nose beneath the water as long as he can. Unless a second dog speedily comes to the rescue the first one is inevitably drowned. If a companion arrives and sets him free he is glad to regain the bank as quickly as possible.

A strong and courageous old kangaroo will hold his own against twenty or thirty dogs, drowning some and frightening others, and the hunter is obliged to intervene with a bullet.—London Spectator.

An Ironclad of 1583.

It is generally supposed that the first use of armor for battleships was during the Crimean war. As a matter of fact, the Dutch claim to have been the pioneers of ironclad building more than 300 years ago. During the famous siege of Antwerp by the Spaniards in 1583, says J. R. Hale in "Famous Sea Fights," the people of the city built a huge flat bottomed warship, armed with heavy iron plates, which they named the Flins Belli, a boastful expression of the hope that she would end the war. An old print of the Flins Belli shows a four masted ship with a high poop. But the vessel steered badly and eventually ran aground under the Spanish batteries and fell into the hands of their commander, the Duke of Parma. He kept the Flins Belli as a curiosity till the end of the siege.

A Summer Without Nights.

To the summer visitor in Sweden there is nothing more striking than the almost total absence of night. At Stockholm, the Swedish capital, the sun goes down a few minutes before 10 o'clock and rises again four hours later during a greater part of the month of June. But the four hours the sun lies hidden in the frozen north are not hours of darkness. The refraction of his rays as he passes around the north pole makes midnight as light as a cloudy midday and enables one to read the finest print without artificial light at any time during the "night."

Waste Not, Want Not.

The baby kept throwing her rattle on the floor until four-year-old Bobby grew weary with picking it up and refused to do so any longer.

"But, dear, she is the only little sister you have," gently remonstrated his mother.

"Well," replied the little boy, "I am the only big brother she has, and she will have a hard time if she wears me all out."—New York Post.

Musical Glasses.

Richard Pockrich, an Irishman, was the inventor of musical glasses—ordinary drinking glasses tuned by selection and played by passing wet fingers over the brim. He showed his invention first in Dublin and took it to London about 1750.

Double Pointed.

Bess—I'm at a loss to understand just what Mr. Blank meant when I told him my age was twenty-five. Tess—What did he say? Bess—That I didn't look it.

It is often necessary and kind rather to write letters that amount to nothing than not to write at all.—Goethe

Real Academic Dignity.

Max Muller tells a story of one of Dr. Strachan Davidson's predecessors as master of Balliol. "Once when returning from a solitary walk Dr. Jennings, whose regard for his own dignity was very great, slipped and fell. Two undergraduates, seeing the accident, ran to assist him and were just laying hands on him to lift him up when he cried a master of arts coming. 'Stop!' he cried. 'I see a master of arts coming down the street, and he dissmiles the undergraduates, with many thanks, and was helped on his legs by the M. A.'"—London Chronicle.

For Safety's Sake.

A captain of a small trading vessel having some contraband goods on board wanted to unload them at a small port.

"Joe," he said to the customs man, whom he knew well, "if I was to stick a pound note over each of your eyes could ye see?"

"No," replied the man, "and if I had another over my mouth I couldn't speak either!"—London Tit-Bits.

Aroused Her Suspicion.

"I see," he said, "that coal has gone up again."

"Has it?" she replied.

"And they're raising rents," he continued.

"Well," she exclaimed, flaring up, "if you wish to have our engagement broken off say so. I always hate to have people bent about the bush in a case of this kind."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Reconstruction, of course! When the great war is over, shattered Europe must be rebuilt. Mediaeval architecture, crumbled by cannon, will be replaced by well-lighted, well-ventilated, convenient and sanitary buildings of the present day. In this tremendous rebuilding,

Certain-teed Roofing

will play a leading role; for CERTAIN-TEED is the twentieth century answer to the demand for roofing that is economical to buy, easy to lay and inexpensive to maintain.

CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roof, from the largest sky-scraper down to the smallest residence or out-building.

It makes a clean, sanitary, attractive roof, with a very low cost per year of life. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it outlasts the period of guarantee.

If you are interested in roofs, investigate CERTAIN-TEED before you decide upon the type to buy. You will find CERTAIN-TEED for sale by responsible dealers all over the world.

The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the quality of the roofing felt and the character of the asphalt saturation. This is a blend of soft asphalt prepared by the General's board of expert chemists. The highest quality roofing felt is thoroughly saturated with this soft blend, and is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which prevents the dry-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing.

SEAL OF OUR UNION

Uncle Sam's Mark When He Stamps Official Documents.

HISTORY OF ITS ADOPTION.

Franklin, Adams and Jefferson Were the Men Appointed by John Hancock to Prepare the Device For the Great Seal of the United States.

The founders of our government did nothing without careful deliberation, and we are told that the adoption of a seal for the United States was as carefully considered as the framing of the Declaration of Independence. It was adopted during the period of the Confederacy, several years before the adoption of the constitution, but not till after several years' deliberation.

On the 4th of July, 1776, after the Declaration of Independence had been finally acted upon, John Hancock, president of the congress, appointed Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson a committee "to prepare a device for the great seal of the United States of America." A seal was not needed for ornament or show, but to certify the official commissions soon to be issued by the United States. The committee took up the matter at once.

Each of the members of the committee had some ideas of his own, and they called in an artist of Philadelphia to help them formulate a design. This artist was Pierre Simietheri, a patriotic Swiss, who was doing some excellent portrait painting in the then capital city of the country.

The Swiss drew a design, which was discussed by the committee, after which each member suggested additions or changes, which were incorporated by Jefferson in a report made to congress on Aug. 10, 1776. This report was in heraldic language, describing the shield, crest, dexter, legend, etc. The following is an extract of this report:

"The great seal should on one side have the arms of the United States of America, which arms should be as follows: The shield has six quarters—the first an enameled rose, for England; the second a thistle proper, for Scotland; the third a harp, for Ireland; the fourth a fleur-de-lis, for France; the fifth the imperial eagle, for Germany; the sixth the crowned lion, for Holland—pointing out the countries from which the colonies have been peopled."

After describing other details, as the Goddess of Liberty, the initial letters of the colonies, etc., the report said, "Crest, the eye of Providence in a radiant triangle, whose glory extends over the shield and beyond the figures; motto, 'E Pluribus Unum.'"

For some reason or other congress referred this device back to the committee for further report. Franklin had proposed for a motto "Rebellion to Tyrants is Obedience to God." Adams proposed Hercules leaning on a club, while all the virtues and nearly all the vices grouped about him in different attitudes. His design would have been a monstrosity and laughingstock. Jefferson's composite design simplified matters, and it was he who suggested the motto "E Pluribus Unum."

This was in August, 1776. The war soon absorbed the attention and nothing further was done about the seal until March, 1779, when a committee of three was appointed to consider and report on the subject. This committee reported in favor of a shield with thirteen diagonal stripes, alternately red and white, a constellation of thirteen stars, a figure of Liberty and the motto "Bello vel Pace Paratus" ("Ready for war or for peace").

This report also was recommended, and it was nearly a year before the matter came up again. Not to follow through repeated discussions and rejections of several designs, the present seal was not adopted till June 20, 1782.

It was the work of a young American artist, William Barton by name, who followed in many respects the design submitted by Jefferson six years before, but simplified it. He retained the eagle, a bundle of arrows in one talon and an olive branch in the other; the helmet with six bars or quarterings, signifying the six nationalities from which the country had been mainly peopled, and the motto "E Pluribus Unum," which survived all the discussions.

The designer said, "The motto alludes to the Union." He added in his explanation, "The escutcheon is borne on the breast of the American eagle, without any other support, to denote that the United States of America ought to rely on their own virtues." The different executive departments of the government have each their own seal, but every commission signed by the president is stamped with the great seal of the United States, which is kept in the state department.—Washington Post.

JACKSON'S INAUGURATION.

Unwelcomed by Adams, but the People Made Things Pretty Lively.

It was on Feb. 11, the day the electoral votes were counted, that Jackson arrived in Washington and took up his residence at Gadsby's, an inn famous in stage coaching days. He declined to call upon President Adams, implying that he could not bring himself to touch the hand of a man who had attained office through unworthy means. He busied himself with the office seekers, who rushed to Washington in incredible numbers, likewise avoiding Adams to flock around the power that was to be. Adams, resenting this breach of etiquette, took no official or social notice of his successor and left the city on the 3d of March, neither he nor any member of his cabinet remaining to welcome Jackson to office.

On the morning of March 4 those fortunate to secure a commanding position on Capitol hill looked down upon Pennsylvania avenue alive with carts and carriages full of women and children, their male escorts walking beside them. At last a small company of men was seen marching compactly through this crowd up the middle of the avenue, one tall figure holding his hat, while the wind played through his willful gray locks. There was something military in the sight, something most unmilitary in the rabble of people shouting themselves hoarse in acclaim of the spare, erect figure. It was an expression of popular will and popular trust that gripped the heart and sent an ache to the throats even of those who feared the "Tennessee barbarian" and his host.

After taking the oath of office Jackson returned to the White House on horseback, followed indiscriminately by white and black, rich and poor, men, women and children, who swarmed over the lawn and through the rooms of the executive mansion, where no police provision had been made for such an onslaught. The courageous old warrior was forced that day to do what he seldom did. He retreated and sought refuge in his old quarters at Gadsby's. Current rumor had it that a quantity of china and cut glass to the value of several thousand dollars was broken in an attempt to get refreshments to the multitude, and finally great tubs of punch were carried out in front of the house, but that "hogsheds would not have been enough."—Helen Nicolay in Century.

BOILING WATER.

It Is Not Always Hot and Sometimes May Be Barely Heated.

If you seek yourself with the teakettle you are apt to think that boiling water is a pretty hot proposition. But boiling water is not always very hot water, and this is the way it happens.

When water boils ordinarily it is because great heat has separated the tiny particles of the water, forcing upward and outward in lively bubbles the air which is contained in them. This is done in spite of the downward pressure of the atmosphere. After the water has become hot enough to boil it can get no hotter, because the air escapes as fast as it is sufficiently heated to do so.

There are places on the earth where the pressure of the atmosphere upon the water is so slight that it requires but little heat to push apart the particles and set free the air bubbles which are confined in the water, so it begins to boil before it becomes very hot. It ought hardly to be called cold water, perhaps, but it is certainly far from being as hot as ordinarily boiling water. This state of things is found on all high mountain tops, as the atmosphere grows weaker and its pressure less as one ascends.

A man traveling at a great elevation in the Andes mountains put some potatoes in a pot of water over a hot fire. The water began to boil almost immediately, but the potatoes did not cook. All the afternoon and all the night the water bubbled and boiled, but still the potatoes were not cooked. The boiling water was not hot enough.

"What did?"

Her Saddest Hour.

"A woman's saddest hour," said the amateur poet, "is that in which she finds her first gray hair."

"Not necessarily," his wife replied. "It may be the hour in which she learns that the man she jilted when she met the failure whom she married has become a millionaire."—Life.

A Slight Omission.

MURRAYVILLE GIVES ROODHOUSE TROUNCING

Takes Second of Five Game Series by Score of 6 to 2

Murrayville defeated Roodhouse in the second of the five game series Sunday by a score of 6 to 2. Wright pitched a good game for Murrayville and kept the hits well scattered. Roodhouse imported a pitcher named Thomas from Mexico, Mo., for the occasion. After Clark and Donohue had slammed out home runs, Clark's coming with a man on, Mr. Thomas was chased to the seclusion of the bench and Hicks took up the burden. Murrayville played a fast game in the field while the work of Roodhouse was ragged, eight errors being chalked up against them. The score:

CHAUTAUQUA DAYS
FOR 1916 ARE OVER

ENTERPRISE A SUCCESS IN EVERY DETAIL.

People Enthusiastic About Chautauqua for Next Year and 3,000 Tickets Were Easily Sold—Sunday a Record Day for Attendance.

The fifth chautauqua in Jacksonville is over and to say it ended in a blaze of glory is stating the case none too strongly. Hundreds of times after some number was heard the expression, "That was well worth the price of a season ticket." The number who failed to speak in terms of praise was insignificant. One gentleman remarked there was hardly enough humor in the program. That was answered by the fact that two of the men who failed to appear were of that class and their places were filled with the opposite character in that respect. The immense audiences to the very last, the close attention and excellent order, the ease in which the 3,000 season tickets were sold for next year all bear out the statement that the enterprise was a grand success and the conditions bode well for next year.

The weather has been well liked excepting a little surplus heat the first three or four days and the affair closed without an accident on the grounds. The management, the performers and the people all have reason to be congratulated. The ladies managing the eating pavilion did a fine business and gave very good satisfaction and their efforts were supplemented by the regular park caterers so that none who had means had to go hungry.

The big list of campers were like a large family and all seemed to have a joyful good time throughout and more than one regret at the end of the affair was heard while many tried to secure the same place for a tent next year. Already the tents and appliances have mostly been removed, a man has been secured by the chautauqua management to clean up the grounds and in a short time the park will resume its wonted appearance and rain will bring out the grass that has been run over. Nearly every one from a distance spoke in terms of great praise and admiration of the grounds saying their equal had seldom been seen. The minor inconveniences and errors unavoidable on such occasions were all borne with good nature and every one seemed to go away with the best of feeling.

The last day of the chautauqua witnessed the largest attendance and the heaviest single ticket receipts of any of the ten days. The Sunday school in the morning was attended by nearly four hundred and was interesting, the sermon by Rev. W. E. Spoons was excellent; the Metropolitan Quartet sang with the greatest of satisfaction on the part of the audience while the persistent recalls given DeWillo showed how highly his wonderful work with the concertina was appreciated. The address of Percival G. Rennick of Peoria was well received and deservedly so. In the evening the vespers services conducted by Rev. Mr. Houck were impressive and later the audience that gathered filled the huge tent fully. Chairs and settees were brought in and standing room was at a premium and the programme by the Metropolitan Quartet and DeWillo were greatly enjoyed, a short meeting of the directors followed and Scott's moving pictures of the best quality ended the day.

A. A. Curry, superintendent of the Sunday school called for order and requested S. W. Nichols to offer prayer. Miss Clara Ranson again ably served as pianist and in the absence of Mr. Beckman, J. A. Litter led the music at the opening. A delightful feature of the music was the cornet playing by Geo. Cunningham of Woodson. The attendance was just at four hundred and the lesson was taught in classes selected according to age and supplied with teachers as many as possible. Mr. Beckman appeared before the close having been detained by an automobile trouble, and led the music. A collection of $5.59 was taken for the county work.

The Bread of Life.

Rev. W. E. Spoons, pastor of the Northminster church delivered the sermon in the morning. The choir of his church, assisted by Rev. Ray Bracwell, furnished very acceptable music finely rendered while in the popular hymns Geo. Beckman acted as leader and Mr. Cunningham played his cornet. Mr. Spoons took for his text, John 6:35, "I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger and he that believeth on me shall never thirst." The discourse that followed was excellent and was heard by a large audience with deep interest. A few thoughts are presented:

There is no salvation without Christ; His salvation is the hope of glory.

You cannot find Christianity by seeking with the mind only.

All the forces of this world are not able to secure eternal life. There are four kingdoms, the animal, vegetable, mineral and spiritual. The minerals support vegetable life but cannot transform itself into vegetable life of itself; seed must be planted; the vegetable cannot transform itself into animal life; it must be eaten and so the animal life cannot transform itself into the spiritual without a higher power. Men alone can do nothing without Christ.

In the creation of man the Creator used the best elements in the body and then breathed into him a living soul.

Man cannot be converted and leave out Christ.

All things in this world live on something and so the soul must have sustenance and that is Christ. Everything must have appropriate food; certain trees grow in the tropics; certain minerals are found in certain places; under other conditions they would starve and so the soul can only live and thrive on Christ.

The soul cannot be fed wisely on the things of this world; without Christ it is lost. The world cannot meet the demands of the soul. Anywhere with Jesus is home, sweet home and through His blood I hope to meet you all on the other shore.

An Age of Achievement.
In the afternoon DeWillo charmed the audience with his wonderful instrument and the Metropolitan quartet sang with acceptance and then Platform Manager Dial announced Percival G. Rennick, of Peoria, instead of Senator Kenyon, who was unable to be present owing to a pressure of official duties. Mr. Rennick held his audience closely for an hour and a quarter and then many urged him to go on. His entire address was a blending of wit and wisdom impossible to reproduce but most enjoyable to hear. He said in part: "I am glad to speak in Jacksonville for when I hear that place mentioned I think of many great names which have gone down in the history of our state. When I consider the mighty names of the past I wonder what we shall do for posterity as these men have done for us. These are the days of smokeless powder, speechless drama, hogless lard and cowless butter and many strange and new things and we cannot tell what will come next. Men strive for faster automobiles, all are pushing and rushing and yet wonder why they suffer with nervous prostration. We shall go on till some day New Yorkers will call up Texas friends and say how well you look."

The birds of the air are likely to strike over the aeroplanes and the fish to commit suicide on account of the submarines. The mightiest force for good is the Man of Galilee who, an humble carpenter, did menial work but taught the eternal truths and gave His life a ransom for the world."

An Evening of Music.
The evening was a feast of music by the Metropolitan quartet and DeWillo who charmed the vast audience that filled every available space in the tent while many were unable to get inside. Both DeWillo and the quartet highly complimented the audience and the management.

A business meeting of the directors followed when all appeared on the platform. President Worthington said substantially: "Messrs. Gause and Knollenberg, retiring directors have been members of the board since the beginning and if the chautauqua has been any success it has been largely due the efforts of these gentlemen. The have labored unceasingly to serve the community. Great praise is due them for the work they have done."

"We do not claim perfection but we have done the best we could to make the chautauqua a success. The program has surely been instructive; the addresses have been good and the music inspiring and better than all else have been and the audiences whose great size, quiet deportment and good order have been the best and most commendable. It is fine that so many can meet here fraternally and socially and enjoy the benefits of this enterprise. Now we have a dream of a permanent building, of a date chautauqua situated here and many other fine things. We thank you for your good order, your magnificent attendance and we want your good will for the future."

J. W. Merrigan also spoke briefly on the behalf of the directors and thanked the people for the generous support given the enterprise. Mr. Dial, who served acceptably as platform manager, said that whatever he had accomplished had been with the aid of the people. He said that he had realized that he was following a manager of exceptional ability in Mr. H. H. Bancroft and that fact made his own tasks the harder. "If there has been any knocker on the ground I have not met him," said Mr. Dial. "I have formed many friendships here and I am sure that we will all feel lonesome for a time now that the chautauqua is over and we go to our homes." The program closed with the singing of "America," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the benediction by Rev. W. E. Spoons. The moving pictures attracted a large audience and the program was of great excellence.

Finance Report.

The financial showing of the enterprise is very pleasing. The summary is about as follows though it will be impossible to give an accurate report for several days as many bills are yet to be brought in. The receipts were:

Season tickets ..... $3,781.00
Gate receipts ..... 1,463.40
Tents, about ..... 200.00
Miscellaneous, probably ..... 10.00

The gate receipts are the largest and the Sunday receipts the largest of any one day in the history of the chautauqua.

While the expenses have not been definitely ascertained it is thought that the small deficit carried over from last year will be wiped out and a small balance of from $40.00 to $200 be left. So many small bills are yet to be brought in that anything nearer is impossible to give. Of course talent was the greatest item. The music was of the best and the other numbers at the top so that it was in no way cheap.

Miss Elie Pyatt has returned to the city after a stay at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Robertson, near Prentice.

LETTER FROM MRS. BOOTH.

The following from "The Little Mother," should be read with interest.

Traveling, August 25th, To the Editor, Jacksonville Daily Journal:

Dear Sir: When I spoke at your chautauqua I made a suggestion regarding the sending of magazines to the state prisons of Alabama where there is great need of good reading matter for the prisoners. Many expressed to me their desire to help but in the crowd it was very difficult to reach all who wanted addresses.

May I ask you to help me by publishing this letter? The addresses are as follows:

Librarian, State's Prison, Wetumpka, Alabama, and

Librarian State's Prison, Speigner, Alabama.

It is the receiving each month of new magazines and receiving them for the 12 months that counts most to the enemy because then they can follow up the stories and articles the have begun. They can also bind the magazines at the end of the year and add the whole volume to their prison library.

My idea in speaking of this matter publicly was that many people after reading their magazines each month have no more use for them and throw them aside when these poor "boys" would welcome them so eagerly and they could thus go forth on a mission of cheer. I need hardly add that any good or interesting books mailed to the same addresses would be very welcome. I have given the names of both prisons as the need is as great in one as in the other.

Believe me cordially yours for our country's prisoners.

Maud B. Booth.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD NEAR WHITE HALL

Body Picked Up Monday On C. & A. Right of Way.

The body of an unknown man was found by the C. & A. section crew about a mile and three-quarters north of White Hall at 7:10 a. m. Monday, and the remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Fox and brought to White Hall, where an inquest was held with the result that the jury returned a verdict of death from unknown cause. He is described as 5 feet 9 inches in height, about 20 years of age, smooth face, dark hair, medium build, and was attired in overalls and jumper, two-piece underwear, coarse tan shoes and light crush hat. When found the man's face was covered with blood, and the condition of the body indicated that he had been dead for several hours. The death blow appeared to be on the mouth, the face and jaw being badly disfigured, and there was a terrible scalp wound.

His hat was still on his head when found, and there was no evidence of a struggle. An examination of the body revealed no mark of identification whatever.

The evidence tended to show that he had been struck on the head by a train, but in the absence of proper evidence the coroner's jury returned the verdict mentioned.

Your Physician will recommend pure Drinking Water. Electro Pure Water, 5 gallons, 20c delivered.

REMOVING THE TENTS

The chautauqua grounds Monday evening bore a stronger resemblance to a "deserted village" than to the busy scene of the day before. The big tent had been taken down by noon and work was begun immediately on taking down the tents of the campers. All day campers were busy hauling their furniture and other effects back to the city and by evening the most of the tents had been removed and packed.

A number of lost articles are in possession of the management. There are several purses in the collection as well as other articles of value. These may be obtained upon application to A. C. Rice, secretary, at the Farmers' State Bank.

NORTONVILLE FARM SOLD

McClellan Sheppard has bought of W. R. Steele in the vicinity of Nortonville forty acres of land for $3,000. It has buildings and improvements. Mr. Steele bought the farm for $1600 and by good management has increased its value and has made a good sale. Mr. Sheppard has besides this farm another of 160 acres which he bought for $25.00 and wouldn't today take $150 an acre for it. Both show what good management and intelligent cultivation will do.

See the big value in the $1.00 sweaters for men at TOMLINSON'S.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR BURGEO

RECEIVED BAD CUT

Mrs. Frank Higgins is a patient at Passavant hospital with a badly cut head as the result of being hit with a glass thrown by her husband. According to Mrs. Higgins' story told to Officer White her husband came home Sunday evening much the worse for liquor. When she remonstrated with him he snatched a glass at her head. The glass struck the woman on the side of the head and the neck. Doctors who attended her said if the cut had been a little deeper the jugular vein would have been severed. No arrest was made as Mrs. Higgins refused to prosecute.

Yes Tomlinson has more of those 50c sweaters.

The Jacksonville Imperials defeated the Lynnvill team at the Driving club park Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 5. The battery for the Imperials was Allen and Stewart.
